

CVHS senior and CMA member plans to continue changing the world long after graduation

By Lisa Fischer

GREELEY -- A patch with the insignia “Changing the world, one heart at a time,” is found on the bottom right corner on the front of the black leather vest Will Davis wears to denote his affiliation with the Christian Motorcyclists Association (CMA).

The phrase is the vision statement of the organization, Davis a senior at Central Valley High School, has been a member of since he was 14, four years ago. CMA’s mission is to inspire leaders and members to be the most organized, advanced, equipped, financially stable organization, full of integrity in the motorcycling industry and the kingdom of God. Davis and his father, Randy, are members of the Grand Island CMA group the Bridge Riders for Christ #952.

“I’ve loved motorcycles my whole life,” Davis said. “My dad rides a Suzuki Marauder, but you don’t have to have a motorcycle to be a part of the Christian Motorcyclists Association.”

He noted how even though CMA’s primary outreach is evangelism, it’s not what it exclusively does. The organization also: partners with ministries with world-reaching potential; equips members in ministry training that aligns itself with Biblical truths; is there if you need them; provides quality products that aid in evangelistic outreach and is an effective WorkCenter support team.

Even though Davis is now an adult member of the Bridge Riders for Christ he started as a youth member under the leadership of Crystal and Chris Worden. Youths interested in learning more about the Christian Motorcyclists Association Grand Island Chapter are encouraged to contact the Wordens at (308) 750-4854 or (308) 750-4313. Adults with interest in learning more about the Bridge Riders for Christ are encouraged to contact Mark Roland, (308) 379-5230 or Wanda Salmon, (308) 940-3309.

“I plan on being a member of the Christian Motorcyclists Association long after graduating from Central Valley High School,” Davis said. “It’s a great outreach project.”
