By Lisa Fischer

GREELEY COUNTY -- An array of Ag-citement was found at Central Valley Public Schools thanks to CV Chapter Members and their advisors Lesley Dugan and Julia Wright.

From Mon. Feb. 19 - to Fri. Feb. 23 CVPS celebrated National FFA Week. Each year, FFA chapters around the country celebrate National FFA Week with local, state and national audiences about what FFA is and the impact it has on members every day.

On Mon. Feb. 19 the CV FFA Chapter began it's daily bags tournament at lunch that lasted until Friday. Each day throughout the week, students found FFA emblems under lunch trays and heard an Ag Announcement. Even though there was a 10 a.m. start on Tues. Feb. 20 the annual Barnyard at CVES still took place. CV FFA Chapter member like Kaitlin Roy brought a horse, Tristan Klein brought a goat, Kilee Ackles brought a cow, Will Davis brought a duck and chicken. By Thurs. Nebraska State FFA President, Jake Judge, visited the high school then the elementary. The Barnyard Olympics originally scheduled for 8th period on Feb. 23 was cancelled because of the weather.
