

CV School Board approves student requested field trip

By Lisa Fischer

GREELEY -- Central Valley High School Family and Consumer Science Instructor Kathleen Kennedy chaperoned a student requested and board approved field trip last month.

Kennedy's class, Intro to Design/Textiles, is in its first year and Central Valley 12th grader Shelby Smith was able to attend the class's first field trip that occurred on Feb. 27 and 28. The trip was made possible because of student interest and the Central Valley School Board.

"A student said is it possible to do this?," Kennedy said. "I said I don't know let's try. I appreciate the Central Valley School Board giving students the opportunity to go on a one-of-a-kind field trip like this."

While on the trip, Smith and Kennedy toured the Metropolitan Community College design center, the Joslyn Art Museum, a student fashion show at the Omaha Design center (during Omaha's Fashion Week), the University of Nebraska-Lincoln (UNL) International Quilt Study Center & Museum, the Robert Hillestad Textiles Gallery and UNL's Dairy Store.
